The 2011-12 Academic Year brought great things to the Economics Department. Dr. Paramita Dhar joined us as a tenure-track Assistant Professor. We hired Dr. Jared Ragusett and he will be joining us as a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Fall-12. The number of majors continues to grow. The Department made the cover of the December issues of the Courier. Finally, the University Curriculum Committee approved the modifications to our program.

From an academic perspective, as the following pages elaborate, we were busy with papers, grants, conferences, and creating new courses. In other words, another typical academic year from Economics! Please feel free to contact us with comments and opinions. Check us out at www.econ.ccsu.edu.

Carlos Liard—Muriente, Ph.D.
The Economics Club at CCSU caters to all those with an interest in Economics, especially those pursuing (or considering) an Economics major. We hold forums and seminars with guest speakers who present their research and give insight to their particular area of expertise. We also serve as a resource to Economics students interested in internships and scholarships, and are the basis of a network of CCSU alumni in Economics.

The Epsilon Chapter of OMICRON DELTA EPSILON (ODE) at CCSU

Become a member of Omicron Delta Epsilon Honor Society!

ODE is an International Honor Society in Economics and founded in 1963 as a result of a merger between two honors societies, Omicron Delta Gamma and Omicron Chi Epsilon. It is one of the largest honor societies and currently has 647 local chapters and 81,000 members. The objectives of Omicron Delta Epsilon are recognition of scholastic attainment and the honoring of two outstanding achievements in economics; the establishment of closer ties between students and faculty in economics within colleges and universities; the publication of the official journal: The American Economist; the sponsoring of panels at professional meetings and the Irving Fisher and Frank W. Taussing competitions.

Undergraduate students who meet the following criteria are encouraged to apply:
- Completion of 12 semester of economics courses;
- Attainment of at least a “B” average in economics courses and an overall “B” average in all classes, and a class standing in the upper one-third;
- Students do not have to be economics majors, but must have a genuine interest in economics in addition to meeting the above requirements.

If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Nara Mijid, Assistant Professor of Economics (Robert Vance Academics Center, Room 453), by email at: mijidnar@ccsu.edu or by phone at (860) 832-2733.

Students that make us proud!

Shauna Simeone
Recipient of the Anastasios Papathanasis Scholarship

The Anastasios Papathanasis Scholarship supports students majoring in Economics with a minimum of 15 credits in Economics, who have demonstrated interests in Economics by contributing to either the University or/and the community. Recipients of the scholarship must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.00.

After graduation, Shauna is planning to join the Air Force and take a leadership position. Additionally, she is a member of the Omicron Delta Epsilon Economic Honor Society. Shauna was the recipient of multiple academic scholarships since her time at CCSU, and she has made the Dean’s list every semester.

Anastasios Papathanasis was a professor of Economics at CCSU from 1984 until his death in 2004. Mrs. Papathanasis presented the scholarship to Shauna at the Spring ODE luncheon.

Milena Frankowska
Recipient of Department Honors for Academic Year 2010/2011

Milena Frankowska graduated in December 2010. She makes us very proud! She received the Economics Department Honors for Academic Year 2010/2011. As the Chair of Economics Department, Dr. Carlos Liard-Muriente indicated in his speech during the ceremony, Milena is a great example of the fact that women are very successful and persuasive in their career goals. Milena graduated Magna cum laude, and shortly after earning her Bachelor’s Degree found employment at Pratt and Whitney in the purchasing department. She utilizes her economics skills as well as fluency in both English and Polish overseeing the UTC plant in Poland.
Meet Our New Professors!

Dr. Paramita Dhar, Assistant Professor

Dr. Paramita Dhar is a new member in the Economics Department at CCSU. She is an Assistant Professor who came on board as a tenure-track faculty member in Fall, 2011. Prior to coming to her appointment, she was an instructor in the Economics Department here, and at the University of Connecticut.

Dr. Dhar received her Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Connecticut in 2011. Her dissertation entitled “Essays on the Economics of Housing” examined two different questions about housing and location choice. An article based on one of her chapters in the dissertation appeared in the Fall issue of the quarterly journal Connecticut Economy and was accepted in the Journal of Urban Economics. Dr. Dhar’s teaching interests include: Mathematical Economics; Business and Government; Econometrics; and Industrial Organization. We are excited to have her on board and look forward to all that she has to offer the Economics department and students.

Dr. Jared Ragusett, Assistant Professor

Dr. Ragusett joined the Economics Department as an Instructor in 2010. He will join the department as an Assistant Professor in the Fall of 2012. Prior to his arrival at CCSU, he taught at Western New England University and UMass – Amherst.

Dr. Ragusett received his M.A. and Ph.D. from UMass – Amherst, and his B.A. from Kalamazoo College.

He teaches courses in Principles of Economics, Political Economy, History of Economic Thought, and International Economics. His research interests include the economics of urban sprawl, race and ethnicity, and the Great Recession.

Jared is a great addition to the Economics team. Welcome aboard Professor Ragusett!

What the Top 1% of Earners Majored In

According to the Census Bureau’s 2010 American Community Survey, the majors that give you the best chance of reaching the 1 percent are pre-med, economics, biochemistry, zoology and, yes, biology, in that order.

Below is a chart showing the majors most likely to get into the 1 percent (excluding majors held by fewer than 50,000 people in 2010 census data). The third column shows the percentage of degree holders with that major who make it into the 1 percent. The fourth column shows the percent of the 1 percent (among college grads) that hold that major. In other words, more than one in 10 people with a pre-med degree make it into the 1 percent, and about 1 in 100 of the 1 percenters with degrees majored in pre-med.
